

Subject: Ms. Wagner evaluation from students

How will she be as a professor?

Ana: She will make a wonderful professor—she was passionate about the writing program and the overall importance of writing to the legal profession. She is clearly very accomplished and has experience both at the writing center and teaching a writing course at George Mason, which will be a great benefit to the Legal Writing Program

Kenn: She would make a fabulous faculty person. She seems to believe in the concept of writing and was passionate about wanting to teach writing. She's experienced, and she's very approachable and I feel students would be very comfortable speaking to her.

How will she be as a mentor?

Ana: I was very comfortable talking with her and I could see students of all ages feeling comfortable around her. She was very calm, was a good listener, and was eager to learn about us—something a mentor should do.

Kenn: She would be a great mentor—she seemed genuinely interested in us as students, she understands law students—and she's approachable, friendly—all-in-all, a GREAT mentor. (I would love to have her as a mentor!)

How will she fit into the law school community?

Ana: She is friendly, approachable, nice, and smart—a clear addition to the law school community. She seems like the type of person that would easily get along with the existing faculty and students. Due to her pleasant demeanor and positive attitude, she will surely be an asset to the law school community.

Kenn: She would fit in great. She's already here. She seems as if she would get along with everyone.

How will she fit into the Iowa City community?

Ana: Her husband is from Iowa City, and his family is in the area. On our drive to school, she mentioned how nice it was to be around family and in a community that is family-friendly. If she is hired, she is likely to stay at the law school for a very long time because as she said, "my husband is addicted to Iowa City!"

Kenn: She would fit in fine, I think. Her husband is from here, and she already lives here. I don't think she'll have a problem in Iowa City—her kids go to school here, her husband graduated from school here, she went to law school here.

Please rank them on a 1-5 scale (1 being the highest. 1: do anything you can to get them here. 5: I will protest if you hire them).

Ana: 1, Kenn: 1
