I support forwarding Teresa's name to the faculty as an adjunct LAWWR instructor.

I'll look forward to seeing Erin McBride's file. I don't have any additional LAWWR adjunct candidates to suggest. If we can confirm that things are going well for Dawn Anderson this semester, I'd support her candidacy.

Thanks, Mark, for doing this. It must seem like it will never end.

I do have a small amount of business concerning LAWWRs.

(1) Teresa Wagner:

As you may know, Teresa has expressed interest in being considered for an adjunct position. I've now confirmed that George Mason has not retained Teresa's teaching evaluations. I'm in favor of forwarding Teresa's name to the faculty for consideration as an adjunct at the next faculty meeting (March 22). If the committee is similarly inclined, I'd like to convey that sentiment to Teresa soon. Let me know.

(2) Erin McBride

(2) Erin McBride

We recently received an inquiry from Erin McBride, a 2003 graduate, expressing interest in a full-time position. I'll circulate her c.v., although our deadline for taking applications for full-time positions has passed. When you vote on her candidacy for a full time position, you might also indicate whether you think she would be an appropriate candidate for an adjunct position.

(3) other potential LAWR adjuncts

Here are the suggested names I've received so far. I intend to contact these folks to ask for c.v.'s. If you know any of these people well and have any views as to their suitability as candidates, please let me know right away.

Renee Ehrlich Montz (Buss, Sale); Stephanie Legislador (David, Sale); Thad Collins (Raymond); Lorie Schweer (Raymond); Kristin Watson (Paul); Nam Le (Sale); Maka Pilcher (Sale)

I also still anticipate that we may add Dawn Anderson to the pool.

(4) Matt Williamson

Hasn't accepted yet. I will attempt to touch base with him this week to encourage him to accept.

Thanks.
