|----|---------------------------------|----|---------------|--|---|
| 12 | Texas Southern University | TX | Summer 2018 | "The University has severed all ties from the Chinese National Confucius Institute at the end of the Summer of 2018. We severed these ties mainly due to the unstable relationship between the U.S. and Chinese governments. Currently, we do offer Chinese language courses through our University funded Chinese Institute." - email from Kendall T. Harris, Provost and Vice President of Academic Affairs and Research, Texas Southern University | |
| 13 | North Carolina State University | NC | November 2018 | North Carolina State University announced it intends to close its Confucius Institute in June 2019, as part of a project to "restructure" its Asia programming. A statement from University Communications on the university's website says, "After June 2019, NC State will no longer offer academic and cultural programs through the Confucius Institute (CI). This transition is part of NC State's efforts to create a more comprehensive Asia strategy led by the Office of Global Engagement, of which Chinese language and culture programs will continue to play a significant role." | https://news.ncsu.edu/2018/11/nc-state-will-restructure-asia-programming-in-2019/ |
| 14 | University of Michigan | MI | December 2018 | James Holloway, vice provost for global engagement and interdisciplinary academic affairs, said the university would bring more of its China studies programs in-house: "This transition is driven by a desire to more broadly include the work of exploring and studying Chinese visual and performing arts within U-M's regular academic and cultural units." However, the university announced that it remains open to working with the Hanban in other ways: "Meanwhile, U-M is in communication with Hanban, exploring alternative ways to support the greater U-M community to continuously engage with Chinese artistic culture." | https://record.umich.edu/articles/u-m-end-agreement-confucius-institute-next-year |

| 68 | Western Michigan University | MI | February 2021 | "COVID has caused the university to focus on its core mission and as a result of that we are streamlining lots of our programs. This was part of the decision to make a reduction in force." - phone call with Kahler B. Schuemann, Chief of Staff and Secretary to the Board of Trustees | |
| 69 | University of Kentucky | KY | March 2021 | "There is growing and strong federal regulatory concern regarding Confucius Institutes. That is simply a facet of ongoing tensions between our two countries. That concern reached an inflection point for UK recently as federal laws and policies — regarding the practical ability to receive federal funding for research grants from the Department of Defense (DOD) — have made continuing our UKCI unsustainable. Nine UK colleges currently receive significant DOD research and academic funding, which we cannot jeopardize. That's some $50 million in the last five years alone with nearly 50 active projects and another 50 in the proposal stage." | Email from President Eli Capilouto. https://patch.com/kentucky/lexington-ky/university-kentuckys-confucius-institute-closing |

| 72 | Stony Brook University | NY | 5-May-21 | "Stony Brook University will close its Confucius Institute, effective May 5, 2021. The University will maintain its support for Chinese students, language and culture, and sustain its commitment to relationships in China through the robust programs and services it has developed in its China Center, and through partnerships with more than 40 Chinese universities." | https://www.stonybrook.edu/confucius/ |
| 73 | University of New Hampshire | NH | Announced January 2021, will close July 30, 2021 | "Due to amplified concerns in Washington about security and influence, the federal government has made it increasingly difficult for us to operate the Institute, including the real possibility of losing significant federal research funding if we do not do so. We hope to continue our strong partnership with Chengdu University, which antedates CI-UNH, as well as other international universities in China and beyond." - campuswide email from University President James W. Dean Jr. | |
| 74 | Tufts University | MA | Announced March 17, 2021, will close September 2021 | "In 2019, Tufts announced a two-year renewal of the CITU. As the expiration of that agreement approaches, we have decided to focus more on our strong and growing direct relationship with BNU." - statement from James M. | 81 | Michigan State University | MI | Announced May 2021, will close by the end of 2021 | "While the university is closing the institute, it is not closing its doors to continued engagement with China or the partnerships formed through the institute. Closing the institute was a difficult decision, but with the uncertainty of support at the federal level and our belief that more direct and intentional partnerships are a more sustainable and effective way to continue these important programs, we know this decision was best for the university and those we serve. Going forward, many of the institute's programs will be transferred to other areas within the university so we can continue to benefit K-12 students and teachers who would not otherwise have these learning options available in their schools." - email from Dan Olsen, Deputy Spokesperson | |

| 88 | Valparaiso University | IN | Announced August 30, 2021. Will close March 1, 2022 | "First, some members of Congress reached out to the University in 2020 and earlier in 2021, questioning the presence of CIVU. A federal law, the National Defense Authorization Act, already prohibits the Defense Department (DOD) from funding research at any university with a Confucius Institute.... Just this past March, DOE funding and Confucius Institutes were intertwined in a bill, S.590, which the U.S. Senate passed by unanimous consent....This bill would impose tight restrictions on funding from DOE (other than student financial aid) to colleges hosting Confucius Institutes....This wave of closures and the other factors above are the reasons for my closing CIVU, not the Indiana Attorney General's (AG) investigation into CIVU." - President José D.
