Appendix I: Status of “Closed” Confucius Institutes

The following table tracks the actions of 76 colleges and universities after closing a Confucius Institute. It is arranged in alphabetical order, by state. The columns to the right, labeled “R”, “M”, and “T”, indicate whether or not the CI has been replaced, whether the institution has maintained a relationship with its Chinese affiliate, and whether the CI has been transferred to a new sponsor.

Most of the MOUs and agreements referenced in this chart are available in our online database at https://data.nas.org/confucius_institute_contracts. (Of the 104 American institutions that closed a CI, there were 38 whose post-closure actions we could not verify, and that are therefore not represented on this list.)
